THE NEWS BY THE EUROPA.

St. John's, N. F., Sept. 17, 1860.

(Via Sackville, Sept. 15.) 1860.

The steamship Europa, from Liverpool on the 6th last, was at Queenstown 2d, passed Cape Race at half past seven o'clock on Sunday evening.

She was hoisted by the news yacht and a summary of her news obtained.

The intelligence is quite important.

The King of Naples visited the capital on the 6th, on a Spanish vessel for Gaeta.

Garibaldi was at Cava, twenty-six miles from Naples, on the 6th, and was expected to reach the capital on the 7th.

His advanced guard arrived at Salerno on the 7th.

Naples continued tranquil.

The Hull Line is advertised to run monthly, the Connaught sailing on the 26th of September, being the first vessel under the new arrangement.

Mr. Leedey, who has instructions relative to shipping negotiations with the United States, is a passenger in the Europa.

The weather in England continued fine, and the harvest in the southern counties was nearly completed, and the result exceeds expectation. Operations have commenced in the more northern counties with encouraging prospects.

Earl Granville was en route for Madrid, and it was reported that he had a mission relative to the slave trade.

The number of English volunteers offering for Garibaldi was so great that funds could not be raised fast enough to send them to Naples.

THE REVOLUTION IN NAPLES.

Garibaldi landed at Salerno on the 5th, and was expected at Naples at any moment.

A battle was considered likely on the 7th, between Genua and Salerno. The royal troops occupied a strong position, and, it was said, in case of defeat, would retire upon Genua.

The queen of Spain had offered the King of Naples a refuge in Spain, which the latter accepted.

The brigade Cadorelli is reported to have passed over to Genua.

The latest despatches from Naples, to the evening of the 6th inst., announce that the King left there for Genua, on board a Spanish vessel. Before leaving he received the penalties of the prisoners.

Garibaldi dined at La Cava on the 6th inst., and was expected to enter Naples on the 7th. La Cava is only twenty-six miles from the capital.

The advanced guard of Garibaldi's army arrived at Salerno at noon of the 6th inst.

Naples was tranquil.

The London Times editorially says that the King has gone to Genua only to consider whether he will fly to Madrid or Vienna; that Naples is as good as lost, and that the turn of Rome must come next.

FRANCE.

It was reported that the French government had sent a diplomatic note to Switzerland relative to the outrages at Geneva on the French flag. The outrage in question was not only one committed by the Swiss, but the number of Frenchmen who were killed in the course of the day, on board a Swiss vessel, was so great that the Swiss must be held responsible.

AUSTRIA.

It was reported that Prince Metternich would be Minister of Foreign Affairs, but the rumor was contradicted.

It was reported that 35,000 Austrians had received orders to leave Vienna for Trieste.

Recent disturbances at Udine had led to the discovery of a great conspiracy favorable to Garibaldi, and numerous arrests were made.

GERMANY.

A general meeting of the National Union, at Coburg, unanimously adopted as a programme the transfer of the central power to Prussia and the convention of a German Parliament.

The Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz is dead.

HOME.

Turk journals denounce the position of the troops of Lamoriere, and call on the Pope to disband his foreign mercenaries.

It was rumored that Count Cavour had sent a note to Rome announcing that any movements of the Pontifical troops beyond the Roman frontier would be considered as an act of intervention, and that Piedmont would in such case consider herself justified in occupying the Marches.
